

Helping to make a difference during the holidays.

FROM JULI ANNE CALLIS, PRESIDENT AND CEO

The Children's Inn at the National Institutes of Health is a residential 'place like home' for sick children and their families. This holiday season, please join me and the NIHFCU in supporting the extraordinary mission of The Children's Inn at NIH. With a monetary donation of any size, you can help brighten the holiday season for children with special medical needs and their families.

Online security update.

Starting early next year, online banking members will benefit from an enhanced login security feature to further defend against identity theft and fraud. The new Login Security will replace the current 'challenge question' authentication process in use today. Instead, it will employ a one-time pass code deliverable by phone, text or e-mail for additional authentication beyond your user name and password.

More information on this security upgrade will be available soon.

Now is the perfect time for a FREE Mortgage Check Up!

The end of the year is a great time to find out if your current mortgage is still your best deal for the long haul. Our Free Mortgage Check-Up is a no-obligation consultation with an NIHFCU mortgage expert. We'll let you know if your present loan is well-suited for your needs or if we can help you own your home for less—which often times we can.
